Mark, In His Own Words

“I have been working with Dr. Block as my professional coach for the full year. During this time, he provided the information, advice and direction that allowed me to pull myself out of a very low spot and achieve goals that I had not previously considered attainable in such a short period of time.

Throughout the year, I achieved a long-standing goal of PMP certification, arranged my schedule to be more efficient, allowing opportunity for daily exercise, quality time with my family, study and self-improvement time as well as more effective working hours. With Corrie’s help, I achieved the position and title change, along with my requested salary adjustment, that I wanted and launched into an MBA program, which is already 25% completed. This time last year, I would have been happy with only one of those achievements, I would never have predicted such progress.

Despite the seemingly hectic workload and personal responsibility, my weekly routine has never provided for more opportunity and time to focus on my priorities. I can look back on the last year and can unequivocally state it was the most progressive, transformative and beneficial of my career and for my family. Since Dr. Block has been my professional coach, I have become a better leader, father and husband with a stronger financial balance, healthier body and a career with more opportunities and possibilities than ever.”

Hussam, In His Own Words

“Dr Corrie is an excellent executive coach.

After 30+ years in my business, it's a rare joy for me to find someone that I can learn something from that will truly make my work more effective for my company and meaningful for me.

Dr. Corrie helped to expand my field of view to more clearly see the value and impact of those around me and raise my level of play in the executive leadership game.

I feel more powerful, more competent, and more inclusive in my leadership as a result of my work with him. He is a great listener, highly intelligent, direct, and incisive.

I know that what is possible for me in my career has expanded as a result of our working together, and I have no hesitation in recommending him to any top-level executive looking for a coach.”

Mozhgan, In Her Own Words

“Dr. Corrie is a professional, independent advisor who provides frank and honest advice that may be difficult to find by anyone else.

During my time with him, I had really tough time in my career.

Corrie helped me understand my strengths and showed me areas of improvements.

I learned how to engage with my staff, respect them, and feel their feelings. I learned how to use opportunities in my transition time and how to evaluate all aspects of my career.

Despite the fact that Corrie is really talented and educated, he coaches you in a way that makes you feel as though it's you who is thinking and solving the problems.

It's really amazing for your confidence ...I wish I had met him years earlier in my career life.”
